

Please leave the Indiana "No call list" alone. We pay to have our number kept out of the phone book because we -don't- want excess phonecalls. I work mornings, my husband works afternoon and evenings (2 jobs) and my son works evenings. It is absolutely rude the calls we get all different hours that - always- interrupts one of us from trying to sleep. Even with our phone number unpublished, we were receiving multiple unwanted phonecalls a day, now it's only rare. Why bother paying for a service if everyone still calls??? Please leave the No call list alone. (Why not take the phone off the hook? I have children in college and want them to be able to contact me...not some rude sales person! Besides, I have the right to leave my phone -on- the hook!). Thank-you!
